Are pre-nups just for the super rich?

They aren't considered to be particularly romantic, but a prenuptial agreement (pre-nup) is a way of protecting your assets, should your marriage or civil partnership breakdown.

Dipika Mistry, Legal Director at Shakespeare Martineau in Solihull explains...

A lot of people think that pre-nups are only for millionaires and lottery winners, but they are becoming more and more important as people enter blended families or marry later in life when assets are greater.

If you have significantly more wealth than your partner, personally or via a business, or have children from a previous relationship you'd like to protect, then you should consider a nuptial agreement.

What is a pre-nup?

A pre-nup is a legal agreement between a couple, which sets out how finances or assets will be distributed, in the event of divorce. They can be used to ring-fence assets that one or both parties bring to a marriage, or be used to protect assets inherited during the marriage. Where possible they should be flexible, in order to deal with changes in the family such as children or illness – backed up by an up to date will.

Are pre-nups legally binding?

No. A pre-nup is not legally binding in English law, however, they are becoming increasingly upheld provided that they are entered into fairly and on a voluntary basis and both parties have received independent legal advice before doing so.

Pre-nups do not overrule a court's decision on financial arrangements on divorce but they do carry some influence.

I'm already married – how can I protect my assets?

It is possible to record an agreement after marriage or civil partnership; these are called post-nuptial agreements. Similarly to a pre-nup they outline the decision reached between a couple in relation to what will happen to their finances, should it breakdown.

Some couples who have already entered into a pre-nup choose to enter into a further post-nup to confirm the arrangements still stand.

For the best chance of these agreements being upheld, as with a pre-nup, a post-nup must be entered into fairly, after independent legal advice.

Win 4 tickets to see Belfast

at Solihull's Core Theatre
on Wednesday 6th July 7.30pm

For your chance to win these tickets, sign up to the Solihull Index monthly e-newsletter at www.solihullindex.com and the winner will be drawn at random.

About the show:

BELFAST is a movie straight from Branagh's own experience. A nine-year-old boy must chart a path towards adulthood through a world that has suddenly turned upside down. His stable and loving community and everything he thought he understood about life is changed forever but joy, laughter, music, and the formative magic of the movies remain.

Raspberry Swiss Roll

Home-made Swiss rolls are so good, and surprisingly easy to make.

Preparation time: 30 mins

Cooking time: 10 to 30 mins

Serves: 6–8

Ingredients

4 free-range eggs
115g caster sugar, plus extra to dust (you can also use icing sugar)
½ tsp vanilla bean paste
75g self-raising flour
200ml double cream
1 tsp vanilla extract
200g whole raspberries
For the raspberry jam
150g caster sugar
½ lemon, zest, and juice
350g raspberries

Method

Preheat the oven to 190C/170C Fan/Gas 5 and line a 23x33cm/9x13in Swiss roll tin with greaseproof baking paper.

Place the eggs, sugar and vanilla paste into a bowl and whisk together until pale, fluffy, and thickened to the consistency of double cream.

Sieve the flour into the mixture and carefully fold it in preserving as much air as possible. Pour the mixture into the lined tin and spread it evenly with the spatula.

Bake for 10–12 minutes, or until just firm to the touch.

Place a sheet of baking paper, slightly bigger than the tray, onto a work surface and dust with caster sugar. Turn the sponge out onto the paper, peel off the baking paper on the bottom of the sponge and set aside to cool a little. Pour the double cream and vanilla extract into a large bowl and whip to soft peaks. Make the jam – Heat a pan until hot. Add the sugar, lemon zest and juice and cook for 3–4 minutes until the sugar has dissolved. Throw in the 350g of raspberries and cook for 3–5 minutes until they break down and thicken. Remove from the heat and set aside to cool.

Spread the jam over the sponge, leaving a 2cm gap around the edge. Spread the whipped cream over the top of the jam, then sprinkle over the whole raspberries. Starting with the longest edge of the sponge and using the baking paper to help (but take care not to roll the paper inside the sponge!), roll the sponge up tightly, making sure the filling stays inside. Keep rolling until the sponge rolls off the baking paper. Dust with extra caster sugar or the icing sugar and cut into slices to serve.
